before you decide...

The vast northern Maine region offers unlimited opportunities for industrial development . . . for new industries . . . for expansion or relocation.

Ample land; realistic land values; good climate and other natural resources; a variety of raw materials; adequate labor supply and thriving communities; cooperative local and state governments; excellent banking facilities . . all combine to invite your serious consideration of northern Maine.

A modern railway transportation system with rail connections to all points in the U.S.A. and direct connections to Canada and an ocean terminal at Searsport provide easy outlets to the markets of the nation and the world.

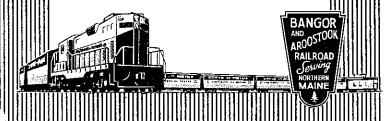

Your inquiry, in strict confidence if you wish is invited by:

†This performance is based on the assumption that traffic will move out of Rigby (Portland, Me.) on B&M Train No. M-7 or ADV/M-7. Approximately one day's running time should be added to traffic missing this connection.

*The arrival times for these key points represent movement via the most expeditious routing. The arrival time varies according to the route selected. Consult schedules of individual railroads for detailed movements over their respective lines.
