GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

To secure uniformity of loading, to obtain the best time movement possible and the most economical use of equipment, the instructions herein must be observed by all concerned.

Agents and others who are responsible for the loading and handling of freight, will familiarize themselves with these instructions, and see that they are complied with. They will report to the proper officer of their respective companies any cars received with less than the prescribed minimum tonnage, or cars which are not loaded in accordance with these instructions.

These instructions will not be changed except by proper authority.
